

YOUTH SUCCESSES

Youth staying at the emergency shelter traveled as a group to Santa Fe and attended Meow Wolf; they spent hours marveling at the unique artwork within the exhibit and enjoying each other's company. The visit coincided with Santa Fe Pride and its parade—some of the youth were able to watch, which “made it the best day EVER!”

THE COMMUNITY NEEDS
YOU!

WITH YOUR HELP, DREAMTREE IS ABLE TO CONTINUE ITS MISSION. YOUR SUPPORT IS THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN SOMEONE SLEEPING OUTSIDE IN THE COLD OR HAVING A SAFE, WARM PLACE TO STAY, AND HOW A PERSON'S BASIC NEEDS ARE MET. YOU ARE THE STEPPING STONE THAT HELPS THEM IMPROVE THEIR SITUATION.

A STAFF REFLECTION

Before I started working at DreamTree, I didn't realize how many people in Taos are actually homeless or experience housing insecurity. I have learned that homelessness often falls under the radar; the hardest part for me is hearing about families who are living out of their vehicles. Families are so grateful for the support they receive: a warm bed and a safe place to sleep, a shower, someone to help them navigate the service network to access emergency and longer-term housing programs. The services DreamTree provides really make a difference to the families in the Taos community!

YOUNG PEOPLES' MILESTONES

Amy and Brian in the Transitional Living Program were expecting a child. Carly was premature and Amy had to be airlifted to Albuquerque, where better care was available. While Amy and baby Carly stayed in the hospital, Brian continued to work and live in Taos, and used public transit to visit Amy and his baby in Abq whenever possible. Last month, Carly was released from the hospital, and the whole family returned to Taos and DreamTree. All are healthy and baby Carly is thriving!
